

The Morgan State University Choir (MSUC) has performed around the world to critical acclaim. Named “Best College Choir” in 2004 by Reader’s Digest magazine, the Choir has performed with several major symphony orchestras, including The Philadelphia Orchestra, Chicago Symphony, New York Philharmonic and the National Symphony Orchestra. Eric Conway is the Director of the Morgan State University Choir and Chairperson of the Fine Arts Department. During his tenure, Dr. Conway has led the choir to many acclaimed performances, including a special performance at the service honoring Rosa Parks, the first woman to lie in honor at our nation’s Capital Rotunda. In 2015, the choir performed for President Barack Obama during his Live at the White House Series. Most recently, the choir has travelled to the Austria, Spain, England, Scotland, Peru and Ecuador. MSUC has shared its musical gifts on many grand stages all over the world—with numerous dignitaries and celebrated performers—making them cultural ambassadors for Morgan State University, the City of Baltimore, the state of Maryland and the United States. Morgan State University, founded in 1867, is a public historically black (HBCU) research university in Baltimore, MD. For further information, see www.msuchoir.org
